It's easy to search Wikibooks by topic, and there are separate sections for recipes and childrens' textbooks. You can download any page as a PDF using a link provided in the left-hand menu, but unfortunately there's no support for other formats. There's also Collection Creator - a handy tool that lets you collate several pages, organize them, and export them together (again, in PDF format). It's a nice feature that enables you to customize your reading material, but it's a bit of a hassle, and is really designed for readers who want printouts. The easiest way to read Wikibooks is simply to open them in your web browser.

Ah the memories, we bought a new Civic hatchback in 1979. It had a 5 spd manual and a cool luggage rack. It was our first Honda car and we drove it to 275,000 miles. Since then we have owned many Hondas, including our fave a 1987 Accord that went 345,000 miles. Currently we have a real POS Odyssey that just went over 200,000 miles last week.
