Theodor Herzl (1860–1904) was born in Pest, Hungary, into a wealthy conservative Jewish family. He attended Jewish elementary school and public high school. Following the death of his only sister in 1878, he and his parents moved to Vienna, where he entered law school.

History: Theodor Herzl: Founding Father of Zionism | Vision

Theodor Herzl was born in the Dohány utca (Tabakgasse in German), a street in the Jewish quarter of Pest (now eastern part of Budapest), Kingdom of Hungary (now Hungary), to a secular Jewish family. His father's family were originally from Zimony (today Zemun, Serbia). He was the second child of Jeanette and Jakob Herzl, who were German-speaking, assimilated Jews.

Theodor Herzl - Wikipedia

Shlomo Avineri's Herzl's Vision brings out the milieu from which Zionism's greatest thinker and publicist emerged better than any other book on Herzl I've read. Israel's most distinguished living political scientist, Avineri makes no direct connection between the events of the late nineteenth century and the political situation facing his country today.

From Israel Prize recipient Shlomo Avineri comes Herzl's Vision, a timely, revealing, and immensely readable new biography of Theodor Herzl, who is credited with conceptualizing modern Zionism. Opening chapters find Herzl rubbing elbows with Kaiser Wilhelm II in Jerusalem, a mere year after first convening the Zionist Congress.

Review of Herzl's Vision (9781933346984) — Foreword Reviews

For me, the story begins with Theodor Herzl. Herzl was born in Hungary in 1860 and died in Austria in 1904. Only the last eight of the forty four years of his life were dedicated to the cause of the Jewish people. However, the fruit of his dreaming, his vision, his effort and his sacrifice is the State of Israel.
